Keys to communicating in difficult situations.

It is completely normal that we have to face difficult conversations. People often find it easier to avoid communicating something they think is going to be controversial or mean, by putting off communication and letting the situation escalate.

Postponing the difficult conversation relieves shortterm anxiety. However, constantly putting off difficult communication situations often leads to feelings of frustration, guilt, annoyance with oneself, anger, reduced self-confidence, and ultimately more stress and anxiety.

By following a few simple guidelines and using some finely honed communication skills, communicating in difficult situations becomes easier.

Types of Difficult Conversations: Planned and Unplanned

Planned conversations occur when the topic has been thought about, planned because the time, place, and other circumstances, have been arranged or chosen for a reason.

Difficult unplanned conversations happen on the spur of the moment; these are often fueled by anger which, in extreme cases, can lead to aggression.

How to deal with difficult conversations

There has to be a balance between communicating something difficult and being as sensitive as possible to the stakeholders. The skill set required to do this may seem somewhat contradictory, as you may need to be both firm and gentle in your approach.

Recommended skills include:

• Information Gathering

Make sure you have the facts straight before you start, know what you are going to say and why you are going to say it. Try to anticipate any questions or concerns that others may have, and think carefully about how you will answer the questions.

• Be Assertive

Once you're sure something needs to be communicated, do it assertively. Don't back off or change your mind in the middle of a conversation, unless of course there's a very good reason to.

• Show Empathy

Put yourself in the other person's shoes and think about how they will feel about what you are saying. How would you feel if the roles were reversed? Give others time to ask questions and make comments.

• Prepare to negotiate.

Often a difficult situation requires a certain amount of negotiation, and you must be prepared for this. When negotiating, aim for a win-win outcome; in some way, all parties can benefit.

• Use appropriate verbal and non-verbal language

Speak clearly, avoiding any slang that others don't understand, make eye contact, and try to sit or stand in a relaxed manner. Do not use confrontational language or inappropriate body language.

• Listen

When we are stressed, we tend to listen less, try to relax and listen carefully to the views, opinions and feelings of the other person or people. Use clarification and reflection techniques to offer feedback and show that you were listening.

Keys to communicating in difficult situation:

• Stay calm and focused

Communication becomes easier when we are calm, take a 1 deep breaths, and try to maintain an air of calm; others are more likely to stay calm if you do. Stay focused on what yo want to say, don't get sidetracked or distracted from the reason you're communicating.

APRIL HOLIDAYS

GOOD FRIDAY April 7 , 2023

Good Friday is a Christian observance held two days before Easter Sunday and it commemorates the crucifixion of Jesus Christ at Calvary (located right outside the walls of Jerusalem). Good Friday is the sixth day of Holy week and is also known as Holy Friday, Great Friday, Black Friday and Easter Friday. The day is also part of the Paschal Triduum that starts on the evening of Maundy Thursday and continues to Easter Sunday recalling the passion, death, burial and resurrection of Christ.

EASTER DAY APRIL 9, 2023

Easter is one of the principal holidays, or feasts, of Christianity. It marks the Resurrection of Jesus three days after his death by crucifixion. For many Christian churches, Easter is the joyful end to the Lenten season of fasting and penitence. Since its origins, Easter has been a time of celebration and feasting and many traditional Easter games and customs developed, such as egg rolling, egg tapping, pace egging, cascarones or confetti eggs and egg decorating.

National Donate a Book Day April 14, 2023

National Donate a Book Day is celebrated on April 14 by readers across the U.S. Whether it's new or gently used books, you're encouraged to donate them to your local libraries. If the books are not added to the libraries' collections, they'll hand them to Friends of Libraries. The Friends of Libraries use donated books to load their book sale fundraisers for the library. So, donate yours to a local public library as a means to share knowledge with others.

APRIL HOLIDAYS

National Library Workers Day April 25, 2023

National Library Workers Day is observed on the Tuesday of National Library Week, which is on April 25 this year.

The day recognizes the importance and contributions of the library staff who keep our libraries running while we get lost in the wonderful books.

Libraries are more than a place for borrowing books, they reflect the needs and expectations of our community.

Library workers are the ones fulfilling those needs and expectations by making information, books, and resources more accessible. Libraries work because they work!

NATIONAL LIBRARY WEEK April 23–29, 2023

Libraries are full of stories in a variety of formats from picture books to large print, audiobooks to eBooks, and more. But there's so much more to the story. Libraries of Things lend items like museum passes, games, musical instruments, and tools.

Library programming brings communities together for entertainment, education, and connection through book clubs, story times, movie nights, crafting classes, and lectures.

Library infrastructure advances communities, providing internet and technology access, literacy skills, and support for businesses, job seekers, and entrepreneurs. National Library Week 2023 will be a great time to tell your library's multi-faceted story.

Earth Day 2023 Saturday, April 22

Earth Day was founded in 1970 as a day of education about environmental issues, and Earth Day 2023 will occur on Saturday, April 22. The holiday is now a global celebration that's sometimes extended into Earth Week, a full seven days of events focused on green living and confronting the climate crisis.

The brainchild of Senator Gaylord Nelson and inspired by the protests of the 1960s, Earth Day began as a "national teach-in on the environment" and was held on April 22 to maximize the number of students that could be reached on university campuses. By raising public awareness of pollution, Nelson hoped to bring environmental causes into the national spotlight.
